2 Agreements

- 2.1 These General Terms and Conditions apply to every Agreement or other legal relationship between VONQ and Customer. Any variations on the General Terms and Conditions or terms and conditions of Customer will only apply if VONQ has expressly confirmed them in writing. The applicability of (general) terms and conditions of Customer is hereby explicitly rejected unless otherwise agreed to in writing.
- 2.2 There are different ways to enter into an Agreement with VONQ. The Agreement between VONQ and Customer is entered into, when, amongst others:

Online Services: Customer has placed an order to purchase the Services that are offered by VONQ's Online Services for the price as shown, has agreed to the Terms and Conditions and has clicked on the relevant button to indicate their acceptance.

SOF: VONQ has received a SOF as signed by Customer, comprising the unconditional acceptance of the offer for the performance of Services as set out by VONQ in the SOF as addressed to Customer;

Email: VONQ has received an email from Customer containing the unconditional acceptance by Customer of an offer as set out by VONQ in an email to Customer.

- 2.3 All descriptions and specifications of the Service(s) on the Software, Websites, in advertisements, brochures, etc. serve as an approximate representation. VONQ cannot warrant the correctness and accuracy of these representations. VONQ is entitled to make changes to the Service(s) to be provided, in order to improve the Service(s) or to comply with any statutory rule, at any time, without prior notice to Customer.
- 2.4 In all cases in which the Agreement with Customer ends, these General Terms and Conditions will continue to govern the relationship between the Parties, insofar as this is necessary for the finalization thereof, or insofar as this follows from the nature of the clause concerned.

3 Term and Termination

- 3.1 The term of the Agreement is further specified by the Parties. Where no term has been specified, the Agreement between Customer and VONQ lasts for the term of the agreed Service(s). Where the Parties have not specified the term of the Agreement and the Agreement concerns the periodical delivery of Services, the Parties may terminate such Agreement maintaining a notice period of three (3) months.
- 3.2 In case of breach of contract, each of the Parties will only be entitled to terminate the Agreement if the other party, after receiving a proper and sufficiently substantiated written notice of default that sets a reasonable period for remedying the breach, is in imputable breach of performance of the obligations under the Agreement.

VONQ will never be liable to pay compensation on account of this termination.
- 3.4 If Customer has already received performance pursuant to the Agreement at the moment of the termination of the Agreement, this performance and the associated payment obligation cannot be undone unless VONQ is in default in respect of that performance. 4 Use of Service(s) and functionality

- 4.1 Insofar as it is not evident that Customer has already agreed to these General Terms and Conditions and declared them applicable, the acceptance of an offer by Customer or entering in an Agreement with VONQ in any way automatically implies agreeing to these General Terms and Conditions and declaring them applicable, unless otherwise has been agreed between Parties in writing.

In case VONQ doubts if the publishing of content is allowed by law or in the event that VONQ holds reasonable objections against certain content and/or media, VONQ is entitled to not publish this content and/or media or take down postings containing this content.
- 4.7 Where an Agreement with Customer concerns the publication of any material of Customer, and VONQ, in its own discretion, cannot or can no longer agree to be in any way related to this content, VONQ is at all times and without a notification to Customer being necessary entitled to remove the content, withdraw the publication or in any other way make sure the name and reputation of VONQ, its affiliates, (other) Customers and / or natural persons are not affected.

- 4.9 VONQ reserves the right to make alterations to the Service(s) or to the access to the Service(s) if this is recommended for the functioning of the Service(s). - 13.5 Notwithstanding the provisions of this article 13, Customer must refrain at all times from the improper use of the Service(s), Software, Online Services and the data which can be accessed by means of the Service(s), Software or the Online Services. If VONQ reasonably suspects improper use by Customer, Customer will owe VONQ an immediately due and payable penalty, without any judicial intervention, of EUR ten thousand (€10,000) for every day that the improper use continues and VONQ will be entitled to terminate the Agreement with Customer with immediate effect. For this purpose, improper use, in any case, means, but is not limited to, the conduct as described in article 13.1 and 13.3 above. The aforementioned immediately due and payable penalty may never be deducted from any possible compensation due by Customer to VONQ.

14 VONQ's liability and indemnity

- 14.1 The Services are provided "as is". VONQ does not guarantee the accuracy or completeness of the Software or Online Services or any information or content on it or that it is free of defects or viruses unless agreed upon explicitly by VONQ. Any liability of VONQ, whether direct, indirect, immaterial or consequential, including but not limited to loss of profit, resulting from the use of the Services is excluded to the fullest extent permitted by law.
- 14.2 Customer acknowledges and agrees that VONQ is not liable for any loss or damage that may be incurred by Customer as a result of any act or omission by Customer.
- 14.3 VONQ will use reasonable endeavours to ensure that the Services functionality necessary for the Service(s) is and stays fully operational. of information provided through the Service(s), Software or Online Services.

- 14.4 VONQ shall not be liable for any loss or damage of any kind that may arise from the unauthorized use of the Services and the use of any information contained within it. Furthermore, VONQ cannot be held liable for any third party information that is linked or otherwise referred to on the system and that is not maintained and controlled by VONQ.
- 14.5 VONQ strives to provide Customer with the Services in the most optimal way, including publishing the Recruitment Marketing Campaigns and Job Postings in a careful and adequate manner. However, it may occur that Non-affiliated Parties move to publish the Recruitment Marketing Campaigns or Job Postings on their own initiative and platforms. This may cause the Job Description to be available online after Customer has informed VONQ to withdraw the Job Marketing, Recruitment Marketing Campaign or Job Posting or in any other way ensure that it is unavailable from that moment on. VONQ is under no circumstances liable or responsible for any damage that is caused by actions of Non-affiliated Parties, such as but not limited to the aforementioned publishing Recruitment Marketing Campaigns or Job Postings on their own initiative. In addition, VONQ is under no circumstances liable or responsible for any damage caused by the exact placement of such Recruitment Marketing Campaign or Job Postings by Non-affiliated Parties.
- 14.6 The Online Services may include (hyper)links and other references to third party files, websites and locations. VONQ has not verified the content of such files, websites and locations and therefore only offers its Customers the possibility to get further information. A reference to any third party information cannot be considered any recommendation for such information, neither explicit nor implied. VONQ can therefore not give any guarantee for the accessibility or content of such third party files, websites or locations and cannot accept any liability for the operation of such files, websites or locations, nor for any damage, whether direct or indirect, resulting from accessing such files, websites or locations. The sole fact that VONQ has included a reference to any third party website does not imply that its contents are endorsed by VONQ.
- 14.7 VONQ takes precautions to protect all data processed under the Agreement in accordance with articles 16 and 17, but will not accept any liability for any resulting misuse of such data in case of infiltration of its Online Services or systems by unauthorized third parties, except when such infiltration is the result of demonstrable non-compliance by VONQ with its statutory and/or contractual obligations with respect to personal data protection.
- 14.8 VONQ's total liability for an imputable breach in the performance of the Agreement is limited to compensation of direct damages up to no more than the amount of the price stipulated for that Agreement (excluding VAT). If the Agreement has already been running for longer than one year due to one or more extensions (automatic or otherwise), the stipulated price will be set at the total price (excluding VAT) stipulated for one year.
- 14.9 Direct damage exclusively means:
 - 14.9.1 reasonable costs that Customer would have to incur in order to make VONQ's performance conform to the Agreement. However, this damage will not be compensated if Customer has terminated the Agreement;
 - 14.9.2 reasonable costs incurred to determine the cause and extent of the damage, insofar as the determination relates to direct damage within the meaning of these General Terms and Conditions.
- 14.10 VONQ's liability for an imputable breach in the performance of an Agreement (contractual liability) only arises if it has immediately and duly been given a written notice of default, a reasonable period for remedying the breach has been stated and it remains in imputable breach of its obligations even after that period. The notice of default must contain the most detailed possible description of the breach, so as to enable VONQ to respond adequately.
- 14.11 VONQ does not accept any contractual or other liability for indirect damage, including consequential damage, lost profits, lost savings and loss due to business interruption.
- 14.12 VONQ does not accept any liability for damages caused by an intentional act or omission or gross negligence by Customer.
- 14.13 VONQ does not accept any contractual or other liability for possible infringements of intellectual property rights and/or other rights of third parties due to the use of its Online Services, Software and/or Service(s). Customer indemnifies VONQ against all possible consequential and other damages that arise from its use of VONQ's Service(s) in conflict with intellectual or industrial property rights or other rights of third parties.

- 14.14 VONQ will never be liable in case of a Force Majeure situation. Its obligations will be suspended insofar as performance is not permanently impossible. The Parties are entitled to terminate the Agreement, without one of them becoming liable to pay compensation, if the period during which performance of the Agreement is impossible because of Force Majeure, exceeds or exceeds thirty (30) days. If VONQ has already partially complied with its obligations, or can only partially comply with its obligations, at the time the Force Majeure commences, it may invoice the delivered or deliverable part of the Service(s) separately and Customer will be obliged to pay this invoice as though it were a separate invoice.
- 14.15 The limitations of liability referred to in this article do not apply if the damage results from the intent or wilful misconduct of VONQ, its managers and/or employees.
- 14.16 VONQ is entitled to recover all forms of damage from Customer, including loss of income and all other costs as a result of the unauthorised use and all other forms of misuse of the Service(s).

15 Intellectual property rights
