

HAPI (Hiring API) Product Sheet

Our integrated recruitment advertisement technology for ATS, CRM, and HCM systems.

VONQ offers an advanced job advertising and distribution solution seamlessly integrated into the workflows of ATS, CRM, and HCM systems. This integration allows recruiters to utilize their system of record effortlessly. Through HAPI, our partners can enhance their job distribution capabilities and unlock new revenue streams.

What problem are we solving?

VONQ saves our partners thousands of dollars in development costs by delivering a comprehensive solution for all recruitment advertising and job distribution needs via HAPI platform.

Increase customer lifetime value & retention as our technology is seamlessly embedded into the system, allowing customers to stay on the platform and view all their recruitment advertising efforts, such as clicks and spend, directly within the system which increases the customer loyalty.

Generate revenue by leveraging VONQ's technology, partners can monetize products and services that they are otherwise unable to capitalize on themselves.

Enhanced Hiring Strategies by enabling customers to implement efficient and effective job advertising strategies, significantly improving their hiring efforts.

Improve hiring quality and speed with AI-powered CPA+ and Recruit+, delivering pre-screened, scored, and ranked candidates directly into the ATS.

Who do we serve?

We partner with ATS, HCM, and CRM systems that cater to small and medium enterprises across North America, Europe, and APAC.

What is the impact for our customers?

Our advanced job advertising and distribution solution is natively and seamlessly integrated into the recruiter's existing workflow. This integration saves time and resources, allowing recruiters to access a broader range of job boards and social media channels. As a result, they can reach a larger pool of qualified candidates and job seekers, all without the need to switch platforms or work with multiple vendors.
